What legal factors guide formation of districts?

Several general “rules” guide the formation of municipal voting districts:

1. Avoid diluting any minority group (including racial, ethnic or language), even unintentionally.
2. Be aware of total district population, noting particularly the “citizen voting age population” (“CVAP”) (Consider five (5) percent variance).
3. Key factors to help define the geographic area of each district and those voters in it:
 - a) Geographic contiguity (unbroken border).
 - b) Neighborhoods, as commonly recognized.
 - c) Communities of interest (like minded voters).
 - d) Easily identified boundaries that respect significant topography. (roadways, school districts, utility providers, natural features, etc.).
 - e) Geographic compactness (no geographic meandering).
 - f) Generally equal population (consider a 5% variable).

Outreach Efforts

2. All meetings will be recorded and available for public review.
3. An active website will be kept current.

NOTE: Previously submitted districting maps will not be included in this current process. The 2020 census renders previous 2010 census-based maps obsolete. All prior map suggestions are available on the City's District Election pages on the City website.

City Outreach and Education Tools

1. The City will prepare education and outreach materials aimed at all members of the community, including translated materials.
