SAVE WATER AND MONEY WITH DROUGHT RESILIENT CA NATIVE PLANTS!

California is in its third year of drought, one way you can help is by replacing your non-functional turf with California native plants!

California native plants:

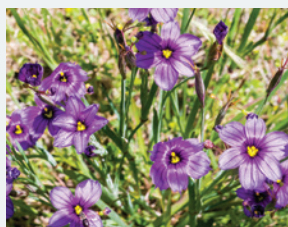

- ◆ Conserve water, they are naturally drought tolerant
- ◆ Create an eco-friendly environment
- ◆ Provide year-round beauty
- ◆ Reduce urban runoff pollution
- ◆ Create a habitat for wildlife and pollinators

Planting California natives is also a sustainable landscaping approach in our NatureScape turf-to-native garden program.
